2016 – now in its 25th year!

FRIDAY NIGHT SUMMER SERIES

The Friday Night Series is the UK's longest running amateur mountain bike racing series.

Races run most Friday nights from early May through to late August with venues around Northamptonshire and surrounding counties.

You don't need to be a member of a club to enter, or have a race licence.
All you need is a bike and a helmet.

The races are open to all, they last for about an hour, with categories that span across age and gender.

Entry fee per race is £10 on the night.

If it's something that you have been looking at, or you just want to see how you stack up against your mates, the informal nature of these events is the perfect introduction to cross country mountain bike racing.
